The pandemic gave me time to rethink my career and the opportunity to try several online courses. In the spring of 2022 I started the Full-Stack Developer course on Codecademy. From day 1 I became obsessed with the course and spent almost every waking moment learning. I quickly realised that is the career path for me and enrolled in Codaisseur.

Projects

CV-Builder

Built a form where users input their personal information. This data then creates a standardised CV in LaTeX.
